Foreword

Dear Students

Welcome to our first edition of the EducationUK Scholarship Guide for 2016-17 entry. This guide provides a listing of some of the scholarships available for South Asian students choosing to study in the UK. The scholarships listed include a wide range of international scholarship schemes as well as scholarships offered by top Universities and Institutions with a total value of approximately 12 million GBP provided by 47 UK universities.

Why choose a UK education?

Gain an excellent education: Did you know four of the top six universities in the world are in the UK? UK Institutions offer you a world-class education and the chance to gain qualifications that are respected by employers and academics worldwide.

World leaders in research and innovation: With 54% of the UK's research classed as world leading, UK is a leader in research and innovation with 114 Nobel Prize winners. Professor Higgs joins a distinguished line of previous UK-educated winners.

Open the doors to your dream career: UK qualifications are respected and valued by employers worldwide, giving you the edge when you are applying for jobs. Reports show UK-educated international graduates achieve markedly higher average salaries than if they had been educated at home. A survey carried out with 27,000 graduate employers found graduates from UK universities are among the most employable, with employers rating five UK universities among the world's top 10.

Study your own way: UK education gives you the chance to choose a course that matches your ambitions and interests, and study in a way that suits you. In the new HE Academy Postgraduate Taught Experience survey, over 88% international graduates are satisfied with their learning experience.

Have the adventure of a lifetime: Studying in the UK is a chance to discover its unique culture, cities and countryside. Travel easily across England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland - there's so much to discover.

For more information about studying in the UK visit <http://www.educationuk.org/pakistan/>

We look forward to welcoming you as you join over 430,000 international students who choose a world-class education by studying in the UK each year.

With best wishes

Nottingham Trent University is in the top three universities in England for the number of students doing one-year work placements.

HESA 2013-14

Shraddha did a year's work placement as part of her course at a leading property contractor in London.

Every day she was given a new challenge and put in different situations to test her abilities.

Getting practical experience in the industry increased her understanding of the subject and made her more confident in her final year.

She also built up her portfolio of work and developed a network of contacts, all of which helped her to secure her current job.

“Doing a work placement as part of my course really helped me to secure my current employment as an architectural technologist in the UK.”

Be our next success story.

AUBcreate Scholarships – Leading UK creative specialist University in global hunt for post-grad creative talent

Arts University Bournemouth is launching a global competition aimed at finding the world's most promising talent in the fields of Architecture, Animation, Film, and Photography. As well as the kudos associated with being named one of the World's top up-and-coming creative talents, competition winners will be awarded full tuition fee scholarships in applicable AUB Master's courses, starting in October 2016.

The scholarships are open to AUB's MA Animation Production, MA Film Production (all pathways except Directing), the RIBA accredited MA Architecture (year one only) and MA Commercial Photography.

AUB's Head of International Development, Hilary Colvey said:

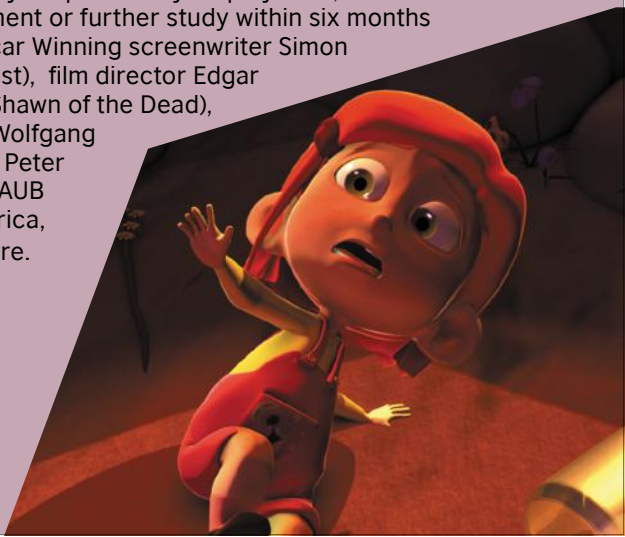

"This is a wonderful opportunity for the next generation of creative talent from around the world to take a significant step towards making that dream career a reality. If you have genuine creative flair and a love for what you, you're in with a chance of winning. This is your opportunity to take your creativity onto the global stage."

The competition opens in January 2016. To enter, you'll need to post an example of your best work publicly on social media (with the AUBcreate hashtag) and upload a link to the AUB website, along with some information about yourself. This piece of work can be in any medium - the only guideline is that it should be something that you think best showcases your talent, relevant to the programme you are applying for. Final scholarship decisions will be made based on applicant's portfolios, personal statements and qualifications. To find out more about the competition, the guidelines and the applicable MA courses, visit aub.ac.uk/AUBcreate.

AUB is the UK's number one university for post-study employment, with 97.4% of its graduates going onto employment or further study within six months of graduating. Its alumni include Oscar Winning screenwriter Simon Beaufoy (Slum Dog Millionaire, Everest), film director Edgar Wright (Scott Pilgrim Vs The World, Shawn of the Dead), Turner Prize winning photographer Wolfgang Tillmans and legendary Architect Sir Peter Cook. Recent productions involving AUB alumni include Gravity, Captain America, Cinderella, Toy Story 3 and many more.

University of Chester

Tanzila Sharmin, an MSc Oncology student at the University of Chester, UK and a Commonwealth Shared Scholarship recipient shares with us her tips for success.

What is it like being a straight A student..? Do you ever manage to get out of the library?

I am not a bookworm by any means! My recipe for success is simple: concentrate and listen carefully during the lectures and seminars and study regularly outside the class and do not leave studying to the last minute. This approach has allowed me to pass the entrance exam to the Dhaka University, where out of 30,000 applicants I was in the top 800 and graduated with the second highest position in my department. Ever since I can remember, I have always enjoyed studying and learning about new things but I could never have imagined that this passion would allow me to get a fully funded scholarship at a UK University.

So tell us how did you manage to secure a fully funded scholarship?

I have managed to get the scholarship thanks to a little bit of luck and a lot of hard work! As soon as I had enrolled on my Masters' degree I started researching the requirements for the scholarship, taking the preparation very seriously as I knew that securing a fully funded scholarship would be challenging and I wanted to give myself the best chance possible.

Firstly, I checked the application deadlines and requirements as these will differ depending on the University. My next step was to enrol on IELTS classes to improve my English language skills- a good IELTS score is a must. At the same time I also started to research my study options. I spent quite a lot of time preparing my statement of purpose so that the jury panel could get to know me better and understand who I am and why I am the person who should be getting the scholarship! At the end of April I got an unconditional offer from the University of Chester but it took me some time before this news really sunk in.

How did you adapt to a new lifestyle?

Prior to my arrival in the UK, I have never been overseas so I was torn between feelings of excitement and anxiety....

When I reached the immigration desk at Manchester Airport the officer asked me where I was going to study and when I said the University of Chester, he smiled and said that Chester is a really nice place and I will very much enjoy being there. He was right!! I don't think I could have wished for a better place to learn British culture and history.

The University was there to support me at every step of my admission process and made the transition for me as smooth as possible. I was picked up from the airport by the International Welfare team and they took to my accommodation. Being a Muslim it was very important to me to stay in a ladies only accommodation, and I am very thankful that my preference was taken into consideration by the University, my room is located in a house shared by 6 female students.

Although, not everything was like in a fairy tale. The first few weeks were challenging, I was away from my family for the first time so I was a little bit home sick. I also had to make important decisions independently for the first time in my life. In Bangladesh, I had a relatively sheltered life, where I could count on my parent's support and guidance in every matter, but in the UK I needed to make many decisions by myself which I feel has helped me to mature as a person and empowered me as a woman. One thing I had to improve on was my punctuality as British people are quite particular about time keeping. I did not enjoy the winter as I am a sun loving creature, but I must not grumble as I hear the winters would be much harsher if I had studied in Scotland. I was excited though to see snow for the first time in my life. Making new friends and meeting people from all over the world is something that I also enjoy very much as in my country you rarely have a chance to mingle with foreigners and learn first-hand about their cultures.

How did you find teaching and study methods in the UK?

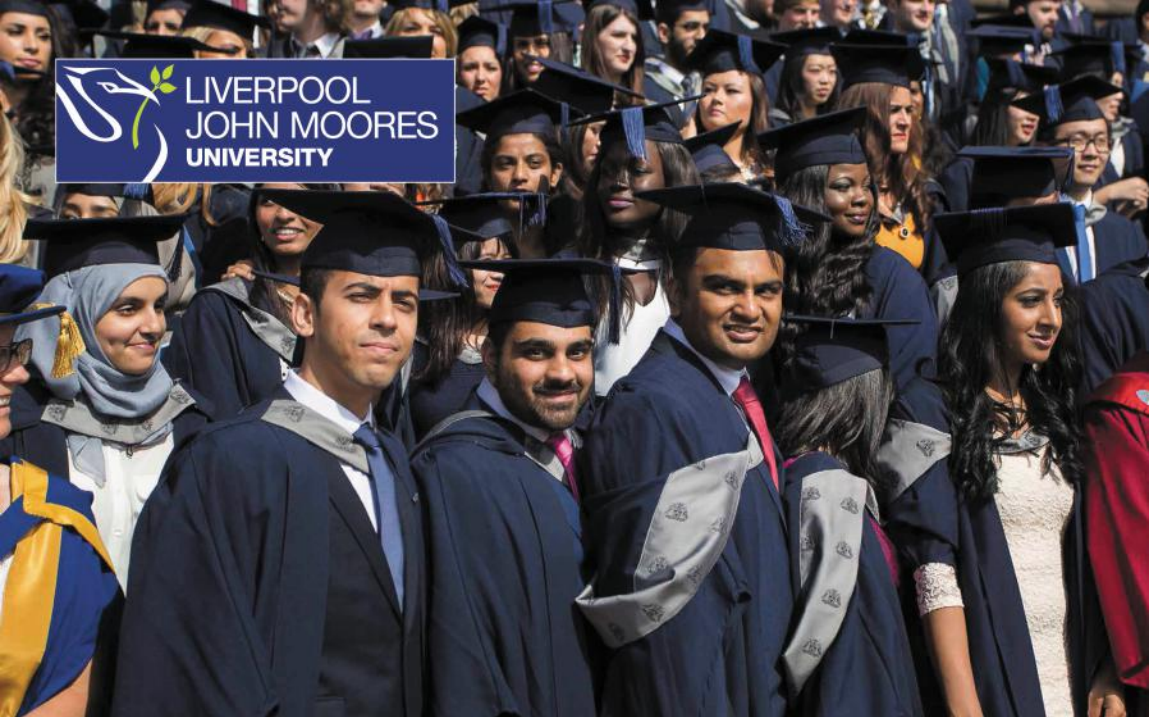

All my travel expenses, visa fees, University tuition fees and the living costs are covered by the scholarship as such I am very lucky that I can focus entirely on my studies.

In Bangladesh I had to attend classes 6 days a week, and here I attend far few classes but they are very intense and there is a lot of self-study involved so I am spending a lot of time in the library, I also had to exercise more self-discipline as professors expect the students to do the work, but they do not pressure you to studying, if you get low marks you will have only yourself to blame. A student can count on a lot of support mechanisms which are in place – we have weekly drop in sessions where we can discuss any issues or problems with our tutors, the Faculty has also organised special classes where one can learn how to do referencing, how to structure the assignment etc. Each and every piece of coursework can be discussed with the tutor before submitting, so that you can correct any mistakes and make additional improvements to your work.

When I was studying in Bangladesh most of my classes were evaluated by exams so I am very familiar with this kind of assessment, but on my course students are required to submit assignments. Surprisingly I find writing them harder than taking exams, they do require more independent research and I needed to develop and master new study skills. My department has been very accommodating and they have allowed me to start my lab work three months ahead of the schedule so that I can have more time to conduct my experiments and get used to new way of studying.

Coventry University

Faculty of Health and Life Sciences

Coventry University's Faculty of Health and Life Sciences, is home to the largest selection of forward thinking vocational health and social care courses in the Midlands.

It's no surprise our courses in Biosciences, Nursing and Midwifery, feature in the Guardian League Table's top 20, with Food Science in the top 5 and Physiotherapy ranked 16th in the Complete University Guide.

Schools within our Faculty include:

- School of Nursing, Midwifery and Health
- School of Life Sciences
- School of Psychological, Social and Behavioural Sciences

Our vision

Our dedication is demonstrated through our £60 million investment plan, in which we are developing the right teaching environment for our students. The new Science and Health building, due to open to students in early 2017, will provide state-of-the-art facilities for hospital simulation, rehabilitation, clinical skills training, sport and exercise environments. The building will also include a Biosciences super-lab and a range of life sciences research facilities.

Why study at Coventry?

Our students are provided with training they can use in real-life situations at every stage of their educational journey, from theory to placements and beyond.

Our current facilities include:

- A real ambulance, which students are able to use as part of their studies.
- Our very own crime scene room, to investigate a variety of criminal evidence, complete with fingerprinting equipment.

- A purpose-built Clinical Skills and Simulation Centre, which allows for improved quality in patient care and patient safety.
- A mock operating theatre, including scrub sinks and theatre lights, and a mock hospital ward so we can study a complete patient pathway.
- Specific laboratory areas for Psychology; Physiotherapy; Biological Sciences; Sport and Exercise Sciences.

Our commitment to employability sets us aside from other universities. Recent results show an impressive 95%* of our Graduates gained employment or continued to further study following their time with us.

Our well established Employment and Placement Unit (EPU) enables students to find vocationally relevant work experience, industrial placements, volunteer roles, part-time work and graduate employment.

We have strong partnerships with employers in multiple sectors including NHS Trusts, scientific industries, charities and health and social care sectors, and we run numerous employer recruitment events on campus and course-related sessions.
