1 Overview of the British Council

1.1 The British Council builds connections, understanding and trust between people in the UK and other countries through arts and culture, education and the English language. We help young people to gain the skills, confidence and connections they are looking for to realise their potential and to participate in strong and inclusive communities. In 2019-20 we connected with 80 million people directly and with 791 million people overall, including online and through our broadcasts and publications. 7 Specification

The British Council is seeking to appoint an individual or organisation to carry out monitoring and evaluation of EDGE (English and Digital for Girls Education) programme. EDGE has been implemented in other South Asian countries, including Bangladesh, India and Nepal, and aims to enhance English language and digital skills for adolescent girls who are out of school or who risk dropping out. Each iteration of EDGE is designed to respond to the contextual challenges faced by girls and the barriers they face to employment and integration into society, and to counterbalance any deficiencies of mainstream education they may experience. The programme is aimed at girls aged 13-19 from rural or semi-rural areas with significant barriers to education.

EDGE-ITA pilot

A 6-month EDGE pilot project was delivered in Muzaffargarh and Bahawalpur, Punjab in 2020-2021 with Idara-e-Taleem-o-Aagahi (ITA) as the implementing partner. The pilot was integrated into a large-scale Girls' Education project, Siyani Sahelian, funded by the FCDO. There were around 20 clubs in the EDGE pilot and 300 girls participated in the pilot phase.

The girls meet in EDGE clubs in safe spaces in their communities. Groups of around 15 girls work together on improving their English, digital and social awareness skills, led by a peer group leader, a girl from their community who has been trained to facilitate the clubs.

Now, we are upscaling the project aiming to reach over 900 participant girls in Muzaffargarh and Bahawalpur with the same implementing partner, ITA.

The Monitoring and Evaluation consultancy should focus on the following:

- The girls' attitude and confidence towards English language, bearing in mind that 20 sessions may not be sufficient to achieve measurable improvement in their proficiency
- The girls' attitude and confidence in their digital literacy and the digital skills the girls have gained
- The girls' increased social awareness based on their ability and willingness to discuss the social awareness topics covered in the clubs
- The girls' ability to take responsibility for their own learning and their developing successful learning strategies

- Peer group leaders' ability to facilitate clubs
- The success of the club as a learning environment for the girls
- An assessment of the girls' parents' and community's attitude to the clubs
- Qualitative and quantitative monitoring and evaluation should be done using a variety of tools, including questionnaires, interviews, focus groups and observations.

The outputs from the consultancy for EDGE project are expected to be:

- A clear M&E log frame to be submitted within the first two weeks of the assignment
- Interview protocols, to be approved by British Council to be submitted within the first two weeks
- Transcripts of interviews, with significant quotes
- A final report (format to be agreed with the British Council) including an analysis of the data, recommendations for the British Council and broader recommendations for Pakistan.

Timeline

The final report for EDGE project should be submitted no later than two weeks after the close of the project.

Points	Interpretation
10	Excellent – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement and provides all of the areas evidence requested in the level of detail requested. This, therefore, is a detailed excellent response that meets all aspects of the requirement leaving no ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement.
7	Good – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement and provides all of the areas of evidence requested, but contains some trivial omissions in relation to the level of detail requested in terms of either the response or the evidence. This, therefore, is a good response that meets all aspects of the requirement with only a trivial level ambiguity due the bidders failure to provide all information at the level of detail requested.
5	Adequate – Overall the response demonstrates that the bidder meets all areas of the requirement, but not all of the areas of evidence requested have been provided. This, therefore, is a poor response with significant ambiguity as to whether the bidder can meet the requirement due to the failure by the bidder to show that it meets one or more areas of the requirement.
0	Unacceptable – The response is non-compliant with the requirements of the RFP and/or no response has been provided.

The British Council may also reject any Proposal where the Overall Price for the goods and/or services is considered by the British Council to be abnormally low following the relevant processes set out under the procurement rules. A maximum offer score of 10 will be awarded to the Proposal offering the lowest “Overall Price”. Other Proposals will be awarded a mark by application of the following formula: (Lowest Overall Price/Overall Price being evaluated) x 10 (rounded to two decimal places) = commercial score.

13.5 Moderation and application of weightings – The evaluation panel appointed for this Procurement Process will meet to agree and moderate scores for each award criteria. Final scores in terms of a percentage of the overall Proposal score will be obtained by applying the relevant weighting factors set out as part of the award criteria table above. The percentage scores for each award criteria will be amalgamated to give a percentage score out of 100.
